Children's Stockings

Good Looking—Good Wearing

What a happy combination! Sometimes mothers seem to think that a stocking for the child must be coarse to give real service. An inspection and a trial of our stockings for children will prove quite the contrary.

Says the Waterbury Record: "Barre is going at the war chest plan in earnest. We like the enthusiasm that comes from this granite section of Vermont. Money in this section only comes by hard knock."

Miss Catherine Martin of Mount Holyoke college is visiting in Mount Vernon, N. Y., previous to coming to the home of Judge and Mrs. F. J. Martin for the summer vacation. The statement that she had already arrived in Barre was incorrect.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McFarland and little daughter are passing several days in the city as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner of South Main street. Mrs. Forrester Cram, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Turner, her parents, returned today to her home in Hartford, Conn.

Granite chips are being used as a foundation and support for a bumper which the M. & V. R. railroad is erecting at the end of the spur which was recently built just west of Enterprise alley. The new siding built to take care of temporary car surpluses, has already proved its usefulness.

Chief Sinclair and Constable G. L. Morris received a busy call down town yesterday afternoon and upon their arrival at the point indicated by their informant, they found that a vagrant dog was the candidate for detention. The canine bore no tag and is being held at police headquarters.

Among the out-of-town manufacturers who were in the city last evening to attend the special meeting of the Barre Granite Manufacturers' association were William B. Jones and Albert Healy of Williamstown, Dan. Davis of West Berlin, August Desilets of East Barre, N. Pelagius, John A. Cross, George Cross and Frank C. Phillips of Northfield, C. D. Swasey, C. L. Although the children's day exercises at the Congregational church are to be held to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock, when the children will take their parts, the morning service will also be along the same line, with baptism of children, and all the children of the Sunday school are asked to be present and march to the auditorium of the church for the service.

They are asked to be in the Sunday school rooms at 10:15 and march up stairs together. In the evening, the children are asked to be in the vestry at 6:45 for the same purpose.

Students of the June skies will be served with an astronomical event of considerable importance to-day, as a total eclipse of the sun is due at 1:45 p.m. The duration of the eclipse will diminish from two minutes and one second on the Pacific coast to fifty seconds on the Atlantic coast. Here in Barre it is possible that observers may see clouds intervene. All over the country astronomers are eagerly anticipating the eclipse, as it will afford an excellent opportunity for studying the corona, the mysterious halo of nearly light surrounding the sun, which is only visible during total eclipses.

Guests arriving at Hotel Barre last night and this morning included the following people: Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Voulger of Boston, A. P. Hunt of Rutland, George Stockwell of New York, Mr. Kibbe, A. E. Clifford, Dr. Hamilton and C. H. Garinger of Springfield, Mass., M. Parth of New Haven, Edwin E. Smith of White River Junction, H. G. Root of Spokane, Wash., Miss F. Mildred Dutton of Randolph, E. M. Averill building last evening for a special meeting called for the purpose of hearing remarks by James M. Boutwell of Boutwell, Minn. & Yarnum, and S. Hollister Jackson of the E. L. Smith Co. It was one of the largest meetings in several months. Mr. Boutwell talked for the most part about co-operation and repeatedly emphasized the fact that granite producers must work together if the industry is to weather successfully the slowing-down that war is causing in many lines of industry. Mr. Jackson brought a message from the fuel conference in Washington, D. C., and the subsequent war conference of granite industries, which was held in Buffalo, N. Y.

Two of the four Shriners who have been representing Mount Sinai temple at the imperial council session returned yesterday from Atlantic City, N. J. Noble S. Love and A. G. Smith of St. Albans left for Vermont immediately after the council ended, while the other members of the Mount Sinai delegation will extend their travels before returning. Mr. Love was among the hundreds of Shriners who were on the beach at Atlantic City when the yawl bearing the survivors from the submarine steamer Carolina landed earlier in the week. He describes it as a most dramatic moment. It happened that the band of 75 musicians, representing Lulu temple of Philadelphia, was playing "The Star Spangled Banner" as the little party of survivors appeared in the offing. Afterward Shriners contributed to a relief fund of $1,000 for the shipwrecked party, and just before the council adjourned the boat in which they made their escape was presented to the Philadelphia temple. The other members of the Vermont delegation were Franklin Barney of Springfield and Fred C. Gilson of St. Johnsbury.

MONTPELIER

The number of men who registered in Vermont Wednesday, June 5, was practically what Capt. Stephen Cushing, who has charge of that department of the draft work, expected it would be. He had set the figure at 2,300. Chittenden county leads in the number of registrants with a total of 283, while Rutland is close with 280. Windsor and Washington coming third with 246 each. Grand Isle naturally is smallest, with 29. It is surprising that each county has alien enemies in the list, no matter how small the number of registrants.

S. B. Bates has purchased a water sprinkler which is to be used in the construction of federal work on highways. The federal government insists when it signs a contract with a state appropriating money for road work that a steam roller be used in laying the road. In order to do this it has been necessary in the past to hire a sprinkler, but this year, owing to the lack of oil, all these are being used, so that the state had but one, which was purchased at a large sale in Massachusetts. The sprinkler will first be used in the work in Montpelier and then wherever the state is constructing road of that nature.

A conference will take place next Wednesday evening between S. B. Bates, highway commissioner; R. S. Currier, county supervisor; H. M. McIntosh, state engineer, and the selection of East Montpelier relative to the construction of a road in East Montpelier. The last session of the legislature appropriated $10,000 for this road, which has been in bad shape for years, and Mr. Bates has been notified that the town at its town meeting voted to match the sum that the state puts into the work, so that if suitable arrangements can be made the road will be constructed.

A. L. Smith, who represented the state agricultural college, spoke Friday evening to a group of poultry men of Montpelier. He discussed the various phases of the business and explained how culling out the drones should be done now, owing to the high price of feed and the necessity of getting the best results. He will meet the members of the organization later in the year.

H. M. Farnham left Friday for Chicago by way of Boston.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Vanderpool of Orange, N. J., arrived Friday evening and on Saturday went to the Foster home in Calais for the summer. They have spent several summers in Calais.

The firemen held a drill with the hook and ladder truck on Main street Saturday evening. They have not been called for service since the early days of March, so that the practice drill took place.

A Distinction.

In Scotland the river Clyde has been brought up to its present draft by means of dredging, and the work has always been a source of pride to the Scotch. In this relation an American engineer tells this story:

"A party of American sightseers had turned up their noses at the Clyde. 'Do you call this a river?' demanded one. 'Why, it's a mere ditch compared with the Mississippi or even one of our small rivers!'"

"'Well, mon,' said the Scot to whom this observation was addressed, 'you've got providence to thank for your rivers, but we made this ourselves.'"—Public Ledger, Philadelphia.
